

My Sibling & I

What makes us different?

What makes us the same?

Think about the things in common between you and your sibling who has Autism and ADHD. Think about your similarities and differences, including your likes and dislikes, how you look, the way you behave, and your interests and hobbies.